

Cookies Policy

Updated 11 December 2018

1. Why do you have a Cookies Policy?

The reason we have a Cookies Policy is to explain to you what cookies and similar technologies we use, why we use them, and what you need to do if you want to restrict, block, disable or delete them. Our Cookies Policy is part of, and is subject to, our Privacy Statement.

By accessing and/or using our Website eventurous.co.uk you confirm that you accept the terms of our Cookies Policy.

2. What are cookies and similar technologies?

A cookie is a text file placed on your computer, tablet, mobile phone, or other device ("device") when a person access or uses a website. There are also technologies similar to cookies (e.g. clear gifs) that do the same. Data is collected because it can be necessary to a website's operation, to assess and/or improve its performance, and/or to provide a personalised experience etc.

To find out more about cookies, please visit: <https://ico.org.uk/for-the-public/online/cookies/>.

3. What if I don't want cookies and similar technologies?

You can restrict, block, disable or delete cookies and similar technologies. Most web browsers allow some control of most cookies through the browser settings. To find out more about how to do that, please visit <http://cookies.insites.com/disable-cookies/> or <http://www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies/>.

When you access and/or use our Websites, we will ask you if you will accept cookies and similar technologies from us and/or our third parties. If you choose not to accept them, or if you accept them but subsequently restrict, block, disable or delete some or all of them, you won't have access to many features that make your experience more efficient and some parts of our Websites may not function properly.

You can also opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites. To find out how you can opt out, please visit <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

4. What cookies collect my data?

We use the following first-party cookies on our Websites. They are placed on your device by us.

__hstc

This cookie is used to track visitors. It contains the domain, utk, initial timestamp, last timestamp, current timestamp, and session number for each subsequent session.

__hssrc

This cookie is to determine if the user has restarted their browser. This is a session cookie.

__hssc

This cookie keeps track of sessions. They allow us to determine if we should increment the session number and timestamps in the `_hstc` cookie. It contains the domain, viewCount, and session start timestamp. This is a cookie that expires after 30 mins.
